

From small town Pennsylvania, Jessica is an author and speaker with a strong passion for encouraging women. Throughout her adult life, she has enjoyed sharing with audiences the profound love and excitement found in the Word of God.

Through her ministry, Jessica seeks to reveal the healing truth of all women's complete acceptance and significance through the work of Jesus Christ. With wit and wisdom, she shares her triumphs and failures along the journey to embracing the life changing gift of salvation. Her heart's desire is not only to experience eternity with her Savior, but to be excited about His goodness right here in the land of the living. Her ministry is to pass this excitement along.

Jessica is a graduate of the Pennsylvania State University with a Bachelor of Science in History Education, and a Master's in Educational Instruction. Along with her speaking and writing, Jessica is an Ancient World History professor, wife to Brian, and mother to their three children.

Jewels of His Crown

Do any of these questions sound familiar to you?

Why is he always on time?

Why is she always late?

Why is she always crying?

Why doesn't she ever show any emotion?

If you've ever asked yourself any of these, this fun-interactive workshop is meant for you!

Come join us as we take a look out how we are all so

UNIQUELY

and

WONDERFULLY

made!

Our Speaker

Jessica Whittemore

